GRIFFIN RUNS HIS WAY INTO THE RECORD BOOK

Archie Griffin believes strongly in what he calls the three D's — desire, dedication and determination. He applies them in every aspect of life.

"They have been my guidelines since junior high school," reveals the Ohio State football great. "The way I look at it, if you apply those three ideals to everything you do, success is inevitable."

Last Saturday in Minneapolis the inevitable happened for Griffin on the football field. Rushing for 133 yards against the University of Minnesota, the junior tailback became the Buckeyes' all time leading ground gainer with 2,577 yards. In just over two seasons Griffin, who set both school and Big Ten single season rushing records last year with 1,577 yards, has surpassed the three-year total of fullback Jim Otis who rushed for 2,542 yards from 1967 to 1969.

Leaning back in the seat of a United Airlines 727 as the Buckeyes headed home following their 34-19 victory over Minnesota, Griffin talked about his latest record.

"It's kind of unbelievable to me," says Griffin who has now rushed for over 100 yards in 12 consecutive games. "I grew up in Columbus watching Ohio State football, but I never thought that I might be the career rushing leader. It's a great, great honor."

But the modest Griffin, who has led the Buckeyes in rushing for two straight years and holds the one game record of 246 yards, doesn't try to take all the credit for his accomplishments.

"Football is a team game," he says with genuine sincerity. "A running back is only as good as the line in front of him and I have had three super lines since I've been here."

Archie also credits the rest of the Buckeye backfield — quarterback Cornelius Greene, wingback Brian Baschnagel and fullbacks Champ Henson and Pete Johnson — with being instrumental in his success.

"With that kind of a backfield no team can possibly concentrate on stopping me," he points out. "If they do, our other backs will run wild."

"Being the all-time leading ground gainer is a great thrill," he continued, "But I know that every player on this team had something to do with setting the record."

There is another honor that Griffin is especially proud of this season. He is one of five captains on the 1974 Buckeye squad.

"Being chosen captain as a junior has special significance for me because it means that the other players on the team look up to me," he says. "I'm not much of a talker but I'll try to be a leader in my own way."

Griffin thinks that will be by example.

"Actions definitely speak louder than words," says the power-packed speedster whose actions last year made him the first sophomore ever to win the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player Award. "I hope I can come up with a big play when we need it that will inspire the rest of the team."

Archie Griffin shows the determination that has made him the Buckeyes' all-time leading rusher.

That shouldn't be too difficult for the 5-9, 185 pounder from Columbus Eastmoor. His two seasons at Ohio State have been filled with big plays. Two years ago as a freshman he scored the winning touchdown in the Buckeyes' 14-11 victory over Michigan. Last year he knifed his way through the tough Wolverine defense for 169 yards in what may have been his greatest performance ever. His top games seem to come against the Buckeyes' toughest opponents — a true indication of greatness as far as coaches are concerned.

"Arch is a great halfback," says a coach that should know, the Buckeyes' Woody Hayes. "In fact he is the greatest we have had since I've been at Ohio State."

"He has great speed and balance and he hits the hole with exceptional quickness."

"And another thing," adds Hayes, who's had the likes of Hop Cassidy, Dave Brungard and John Brockington just to name a few. "Arch is always ready to play. He never gives us a bad ball game."

The Buckeyes have made two consecutive Rose Bowl appearances since Griffin broke into the lineup and a third trip to Pasadena is one of three team goals Archie has set this year. The other two are an outright Big Ten title and a national championship.

"A national title is important because it means we are the best and that's what this team wants to be," he says with determination.

Griffin, considered a leading candidate for the Heisman Trophy this year and a certainty to repeat as a first team All-American selection, does not like to discuss personal goals.

"What I do is only important as far as the team is concerned," he says. "Anything else is just extra."

"The Heisman is a great award but it's only for one person. We can all share the national championship."

"That's my goal and I think desire, determination and dedication will help it become a reality."

Today you're big on spirit.

But your wallet might be short on money. Or maybe you just don't like to carry a lot of cash. That could be a problem if a little later you want to celebrate or just have a comfortable dinner.

But keep on cheering. Because if you have a Master Charge® card from a bank that has an *Anytime Bank*SM machine, you're in luck. Anytime Bank is a 24-hour service of affiliates of BancOhio Corporation, Ohio's only statewide banking organization.

You can get instant cash from your checking account or a Master Charge cash advance right here in Columbus at Ohio National's Anytime Bank machines at 16 locations all around town.

The nearest is located on Olen-tangy River Road just north of the stadium. But whatever direction you're headed, there's probably an Ohio National Anytime Bank machine along the way.

Of course, at home you can use the Anytime Bank machines for a lot more than just getting cash.

Your Master Charge card from any of the following BancOhio affiliates can get you instant cash from any bank listed. Any of them can provide the addresses of Anytime Bank machines all around Ohio.

BEFORE THE GAME

By Steve Snapp

Assistant Sports Information Director

Last Saturday's 34-19 victory over Minnesota didn't come easily. Just ask any of the 54 Ohio State players who made the trip to Minneapolis.

"Minnesota really came to play," observed defensive end Pat Curto. "They were really fired up against us. But I guess everyone wants to beat the top team."

Curto's statement pretty well sums up the way all eleven regular season opponents will feel about Ohio State this year. The Buckeyes have been tabbed as one of the favorites for this year's national championship and that means every team will try a little harder against the Scarlet and Gray.

Minnesota certainly proved that. The Gophers' adrenalin was pumping furiously against the Buckeyes and a 16 point fourth quarter which narrowed the OSU lead to 28-19 made things uncomfortable for a while. But quarterback Cornelius Greene assured coach Woody Hayes of career win number 193 with a 57 yard touchdown run down the right sideline that snuffed out the Gopher's bid for an upset.

Greene, the mercury-like 6-0, 170-pound junior who is starting his second year as the Buckeyes' signal caller, enjoyed a sensational afternoon, especially in the air where he hit 9 of 12 passes for 136 yards.

That should dispel any thoughts that last year's Rose Bowl performance (6 of 8 for 129 yards) was a fluke. It also lends credence to coach Hayes' warning that the Buckeyes will throw the ball this year when the situation dictates a pass.

The situation was there Saturday and Greene, who worked hard during the summer to improve his accuracy and strengthen his arm, made the most of it.

Greene's performance was once again complemented by the running of tailback Archie Griffin. Arch had 133 tough yards against the Gophers and is now the Buckeyes' all-time leading rusher with 2,577 yards. Should he match last year's total of 1,577, Griffin will surpass Oklahoma's Steve Owens as the top rusher in N.C.A.A. history.

The Minnesota game marked the return of fullback Champ Henson, who played in just two games last year before suffering a knee injury and undergoing surgery. Champ, who led the nation in scoring as a sophomore, broke 36 yards to pay dirt the first time he carried the ball against the Gophers. The rugged senior now has 25 career touchdowns and he and Pete Johnson give Ohio State an awesome one-two punch at fullback.

Defensively there were some key plays by the Buckeyes who were unpenetrable until a couple of costly errors by the offense all but gave Minnesota its two touchdowns.

All-America defensive back Neal Colzie came up with a big interception early in the third period that set up Ohio's fourth score, a one yard run by Greene. Colzie appears set to take up where he left off last year and that's good news for Buckeye fans.

Bruce Elia, making his first start at linebacker, had 12 tackles including one behind the line of scrimmage and tackle Pete Cusick was credited with 10 tackles.

This promises to be another great OSU defense for coordinator George Hill who has had some dandies in his previous three seasons at Ohio State. Eight regulars are back including the entire deep secondary, and four players — ends Van DeCree and Jim Cope, Cusick and Colzie are starting their third year as regulars.

But onto today's game which is the first ever meeting between Oregon State and Ohio State and is also the first time that coaches Hayes and Dee Andros have opposed one another as head coaches.

The Beavers, 0-2 on the year, are led by quarterback Alvin White who has connected on 16 of 36 passes for 281 yards and has rushed for 112 more.

Fullback Charlie Smith and tailback Elvin Momon lead the ground game. Smith scored two touchdowns and rushed for 66 yards in Saturday's 48-35 loss to Georgia.

Tackle Jerry Hackenbruck and safety Dennis Downey head the Beaver defense for Andros who is starting his tenth year at the Corvallis school.

"Oregon State will remind you a lot of Minnesota," reports Ohio State super scout Esco Sarkkinen. "They play good aggressive defense and they run a lot of options to make more effective use of their quarterback."

Today will be the first appearance of Coach Hayes on the OSU sidelines since his June 6 heart attack. Woody will be after his 194th career win and number 162 at Ohio State.

Back of the Week

CORNELIUS GREENE — QUARTERBACK — Led the Buckeyes to a 34-19 win over Minnesota last week completing 9 of 12 passes for 136 yards and rushing for 77 more. Scored the Buckeyes' final touchdown on a 57-yard run down the sideline that thwarted a fourth quarter Gopher rally and gave Ohio State its first ever opening game victory away from home. Completed his first five passes and was five of six in the first half as Ohio State built a 21-3 lead. Also scored on a one-yard run in the third period.

Buck of the Week

BRUCE ELIA — LINEBACKER — Returned to defense after a year with offense where he scored 14 touchdowns to lead Ohio State in scoring.

Making his first start on defense, he responded with a team leading 12 tackles against Minnesota, including eight solos. Also had one tackle behind the line of scrimmage on a key third down play. Nominated by United Press International as the Midwest's Defensive Player of the Week.

MCQ Readymix with limestone aggregate assures the permanence of Ohio Stadium, completed over 50 years ago, and our limestone is the maintenance-free foundation for the stadium's artificial turf. MCQ products have been used in several other major OSU campus structures, including St. John's Arena and Morrill and Lincoln Towers.

Limestone products enhance opportunities for unique architectural designs, and the purity of limestone helps preserve design attractiveness, as illustrated by Ohio Bell's Southwestern Area Headquarters Building.

The tallest structure in Columbus, the new 650-foot State Office Tower, was constructed with 100 percent crushed limestone concrete from MCQ Industries.

We're helping O.S.U. and Columbus grow.

We're pleased that MCQ products have contributed to the growth of The Ohio State University . . . and to the growth of Central Ohio. For driveways and patios, or expressways and major commercial buildings, MCQ products are specified most often for strength, durability, economy and attractive architecture. J. EDWARD WEAVER – The Director of Athletics

J. Edward Weaver was named Director of Athletics at The Ohio State University October 14, 1970. He is only the third person to hold this position since Ohio State entered the Big Ten in 1913.

Prior to being appointed Director of Athletics, Weaver had been associated with The Ohio State University or its Alumni Association in various administrative positions since 1946. Initially he served as field secretary for the Alumni Association. In 1950 he became assistant athletic director and director of ticket sales. In 1953 he was named administrative assistant to the Vice President in charge of Business and Finance. Ed returned to the Athletic Department in 1957 as Associate Athletic Director and remained in this capacity until 1970.

As Director of Athletics, Ed inherited an extensive 18 sport intercollegiate program, a fine physical plant, except that Ohio Stadium, built in 1922, was visibly showing its age, and an operating budget that was straining to ward off the ravages of inflation.

Weaver immediately set about to increase the revenue rather than cut back the budget. He quickly sought, and received permission, to add a tenth football game which increases the income.

In 1972 he scheduled a pre-season professional football game in Ohio Stadium that sold out. A similar game was played in 1973 and 1974.

This year Ohio State will play an eleventh football game which will further increase the Athletic Department revenue, making possible more and better facilities in the future.

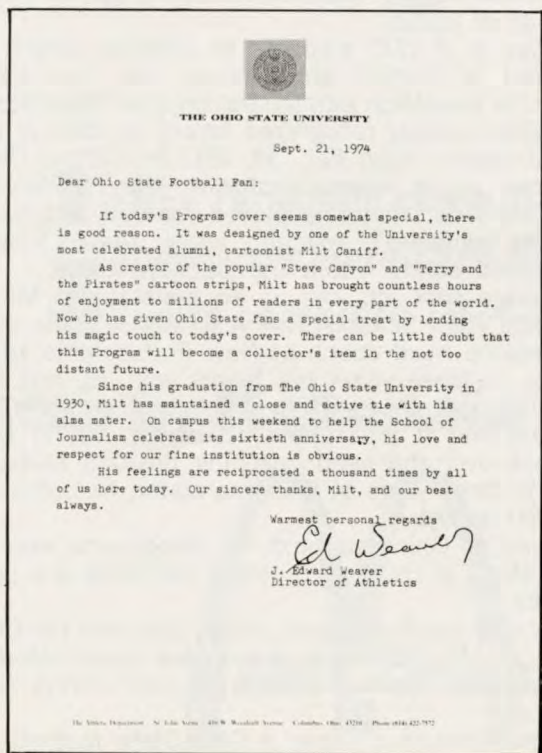

Two such projects of major importance were launched recently. Construction was begun on a new varsity tennis court complex adjacent to the Ernie Biggs Training Facility, and a new running track was installed in Ohio Stadium.

A notable improvement since Weaver became Director, is the installation of artificial turf in the Stadium and on the practice field. In addition, lights have been added to the facade of the Stadium, allowing extensive use of the field for intramurals and physical education classes. Also 53,805 new fiberglass seat covers were added last year to "A" and "C" decks in the Stadium.

Weaver was born in Marysville, Ohio and graduated from Central High School in Lima. He graduated from Ohio State with a B.A. degree in 1933. As an undergraduate Ed played football and basketball.

After graduating from college, Ed worked with a finance company, managing offices in Newark, New Jersey and in several Ohio cities.

During World War II, he served three and one-half years with the Counter Intelligence Corps. He returned to the campus in 1946.

SAME OLD WOODY BACK ON THE JOB

When Woody Hayes suffered a heart attack last June 6, rumors persisted that the veteran Ohio State football coach would decide to retire.

Nothing could have been farther from the truth as far as the 61-year old Hayes was concerned.

"It never entered my mind," says Woody. "I knew I hadn't had a bad heart attack because the doctors told me so. The morning after I was admitted to the hospital I decided I would be back on the sidelines this season.

Hayes' determination paid off. He returned to work in August and has been on the job ever since. When he walks out of the southeast locker room today to take his place on the sideline, he will be starting his 24th home season at Ohio State.

Slimmer now by almost 25 pounds, Woody has lost none of his enthusiasm or his love for coaching. The only change in his schedule has been a reduction in the number of speeches and other outside activities which make his already busy day too demanding.

"I take a nap everyday too," he says. "The doctors want me to get more rest and a nap does help me get through the day."

Hayes has often said there is nothing he likes better than coaching. There is probably nothing he does better, either.

In just over 23 years with the Buckeyes he has compiled an amazing 160-49-8 record that includes three national championships, nine Big Ten titles and four unbeaten seasons. Twice Buckeye teams have recorded 17 straight Big Ten wins and under Hayes' leadership Ohio State has risen from third to first in the all-time Big Ten standings.

In Rose Bowl competition the Buckeyes have won four of six visits to Pasadena, including last year's 42-21 win over Southern California which Hayes refers to as "my greatest victory ever."

Sometime this season Woody will become one of only a handful of coaches who have ever reached the prestigious 200 win plateau. After 28 seasons at the college level, he currently ranks second among all active major college coaches in total victories with 193.

Hayes' teams literally have become the peoples' choice. During his 23 years, more than ten million fans have converged on Ohio Stadium to see the Buckeyes play and Ohio State has led the nation in average home game attendance for 21 of those 23 years. Last season the Buckeyes drew an incredible 523,369 fans for six home games — an average of 87,228.

Hayes is a 1935 graduate of Denison where he majored in English and History. He also holds a M.A. in education administration from Ohio State.

Woody's widely recognized loyalty to Ohio is understandable. Born Feb. 14, 1913 in Clifton, Ohio, he grew up in Newcomerstown. After graduating from Denison where he played football and baseball, he launched a coaching career that has been conducted solely within the Buckeye State.

Woody's first job was as an assistant at Mingo Junction High School. The year was 1935. In 1938 he became head coach at New Philadelphia High, where, in three years his teams won 19, lost ten and tied one.

World War II interrupted his career, but in 1946 he took over the head coaching position at Denison. In three years at his alma mater, he compiled a 19-6-0 record.

Miami of Ohio was next for Woody who won 14 of 19 starts at the Oxford school including one conference title.

After two years at Miami, Hayes took over the Ohio State job in 1951. His career has been colorful, exciting, sometimes controversial and always successful.

Wayne Woodrow Hayes is Ohio State football.

Bill Servedio

NEW SEASON JUST WHAT

All the Ohio State soccer team needed last year was a little luck and a few more goals. Unfortunately, the Buckeyes received neither and wound up the season with a 2-3-5 record.

But this is 1974 and coach Bill Servedio predicts both more luck and more offense this year for the Buckeyes who open their season Oct. 5 at Ball State.

"We lacked the necessary experience on offense last year," says Servedio, who is starting his fourth year at Ohio State. "This season we have a veteran group of players returning who will give us a much better and more consistent attack. With a stronger offense, we will be a better team overall."

How much stronger? Well, Servedio isn't predicting an unbeaten season, especially in view of an eleven game schedule that includes perennial tough guys Denison, Ohio University and Bowling Green. But he is predicting a team that can compete with the best the Midwest has to offer.

"No doubt about it," the Springfield college graduate says. "This team can hold its own with anyone on our schedule. Oh we may lose some games, but even when we do the other team will know it's been in a soccer game."

The Buckeyes return 13 lettermen, including eight regulars from a year ago. That nucleus will be complemented by a talented group of newcomers comprised of last year's reserve players and this year's freshmen and junior college transfers.

"This is the deepest team we have had since I have been here," claims Servedio. "We have seventeen or eighteen players who are capable of playing college soccer and that means we can constantly shift good players in and out of the lineup."

The offensive line returns three starters in seniors

THE SOCCER COACH ORDERED

Chuck Winger and John McClain at the wings and Ed McGranaghan at inside striker. McLain led the team in goals last year with five and Winger is starting his third year as a regular so experience is plentiful on the outside.

McGranaghan will be joined at striker by junior college transfer Javier Castillejos, an exceptional ball handler. Another possibility is flashy freshman Keith Patnode from New York who runs a 9.6 hundred and scored 18 goals last year in high school.

Both halfbacks return at the links although one, Cliff Jenny, will miss the first two games because of an appendectomy. Jerry Frumm is the other veteran and he excels at getting the ball out and to the wingers. Junior Mike Graham will fill in for the sub-par Jenny.

Servedio expects another sound defense—a Buckeye trademark in recent years—but he doesn't know if last year's feat of allowing just 17 goals and recording three shutouts can be equaled.

Two of the four defensive fullbacks return and they are dandies. Dan Nelson and Gary Kubala both earned all-Ohio honors last year for their outstanding play and are a good bet to challenge for all Midwest honors in 1974.

The other two fullback slots will be filled by sophomores Bill Arnold and Tom McCardle, both letter winners as freshmen.

"They may be young but they play like cagey veterans," says Servedio. "I don't worry about youth with those two in there."

Goalie Bob Lewis rounds out the lineup. Last year was his first in the net and he had several outstanding games. He should be even better this year with an added year of experience.

Small wonder why Servedio is so optimistic.

Good football teams don't just happen. They are the result of long hours of hard work and preparation.

At Ohio State much of that preparation falls to a dedicated staff of assistant coaches who work with head coach Woody Hayes to mold the Buckeyes' fortunes.

During the season, the OSU assistants frequently spend an average of 15 hours a day getting ready for an upcoming opponent. That gruelling schedule starts in mid August and runs through November - and sometimes December.

In the off-season it's speeches, clinics, banquets and recruiting trips.

Let's meet the Buckeye assistants.

Esco Sarkkinen is the senior member of the Ohio State staff. A former All-American end on the Buckeyes' 1939 Big Ten championship team, he began coaching at OSU in 1946. He currently serves as defensive end coach.

Sarkkinen has been in charge of the Buckeye scouting program since 1951 and has long been thought of as one of the top scouts in college football.

Ralph Staub is the football recruiting coordinator and coach of the offensive ends and tackles. He joined the Buckeyes in 1970 after five years at the University of Cincinnati and one year at Northwestern.

The popular Staub is a native of Cincinnati. He attended the University of Cincinnati and was an end on the Bearcats powerful teams of 1949, '50 and '51. He captained the UC team his senior season and received his degree in 1952.

George Hill joined the staff in 1971 as defense coordinator and linebacker coach. He coached at Bowling Green, Findlay college, Denison, Cornell and Duke before coming to the Buckeyes.

In three seasons at Ohio State, Hill's defensive teams have annually ranked among the best in the nation.

Hill graduated from Denison in 1958. At Denison he won four football letters, two as a fullback and two as a tackle.

George Chaump came to Ohio State in 1968 as quarterback coach. Prior to that he spent six highly successful years at John Harris High School in Harrisburg, Pa. where his teams compiled a 58-4 record, won six consecutive Central Pennsylvania titles and had a 35 game winning streak at the time of his departure.

George is a native of West Pittston, Pa. and a 1958 graduate of Bloomsburg State where he played offensive center and guard.

Dick Walker coaches the Buckeyes' defensive backfield. He joined the staff in 1969 after 12 years of coaching experience both on the high school and college level.

In addition to his coaching responsibilities, Walker is responsible for recruiting the Cleveland area.

Dick is a 1955 graduate of John Carroll. In 1960 he became head coach at Columbus Watterson where his 1966 team won the state championship.

Chuck Clausen serves as the Buckeyes' defensive tackle coach and recruits the eastern seaboard. Among his top recruits are Pete Johnson and Nick Buonamici.

Chuck, a native of Iowa, attended the University of New Mexico where he was a three-year letterman both in football and wrestling.

He coached at New Mexico Military Institute and William and Mary College before coming to Ohio State.

Joe Bugel is the offensive guard and center coach. He joined the Buckeye staff in 1974 after ten years as an assistant at three different universities.

Joe comes from Pittsburgh, Pa. and is a graduate of Munhall High. He attended Western Kentucky and won little All-American honors as a senior in 1962.

Joe is an older brother of Tom Bugel who played linebacker for the Buckeyes in the early sixties.

John Mummey joined the Ohio State staff in 1969. He was head freshman coach until 1973 when he was named coach of the varsity reserve team.

John is a native of Painesville, Ohio where he was an all-Ohio halfback. He attended Ohio State and was both a fullback and a quarterback for the Buckeyes during the 1960, '61 and '62 seasons.

Mickey Jackson is the Buckeyes' newest coach. On the staff since last July, Mickey replaces Rudy Hubbard as offensive backfield coach.

Jackson is a 1968 graduate of Marshall University where he won three letters each in football and track. A tailback for the Thundering Herd, he was fourth nationally in scoring in 1965.

OSU JOURNALISM SCHOOL CELEBRATES 60TH YEAR

Today's pre-game program is dedicated to the Ohio State School of Journalism celebrating its 60th anniversary and holding the formal dedication of the new Journalism Building.

The new $3 million structure at 18th and Neil Avenues opened for classes in January while workmen continued to add the finishing touches.

The building features a larger "Lantern" newsroom equipped with electric typewriters and rooms for meetings, the advisor's office, a darkroom, teletype machine room and clipping file room.

The basement is totally equipped for photojournalism courses. It contains four individual darkrooms for student projects and a larger area that can accommodate 10 students for laboratory instruction in photographic printing.

The first floor houses the 8,000-volume Journalism Library including the Milton Caniff Collection for Research in Cinematography, Photography and Journalism.

Caniff, a journalism graduate in 1930, is the creator of the comic strips Terry and the Pirates and Steve Canyon.

The Ohio Journalism Hall of Fame, the oldest in the country, will be revived in the new first floor conference hall. Not active since 1958, there are 48 members who have made significant contributions to journalism now honored in the hall.

In addition to the "Lantern" offices, the second floor houses the administrative offices and the reporting and editing laboratories.

Like the "Lantern" offices, the reporting laboratories are totally equipped with new electric typewriters.

The editing laboratories feature ultra-modern video display terminals. Ohio State, with the aid of a $50,000 grant from the Gannett Foundation, purchased a complete system that has directory, storage and recall capacity, making it probably the only school in the nation with such a system.

The third floor of the building is zoned for broadcast journalism. The new radio equipment will be installed this month, however, while the space is there, the television equipment is not.

Dr. William E. Hall, director of the School of Journalism since 1966, hopes to raise the price of the equipment, estimated at between $500,000 and $1 million, through private sources.

Still, Hall proclaims the new quarters give Ohio State journalism students "one of the finest journalism facilities in the nation."

The dedication activities included a dedication dinner Friday and a pre-game luncheon with President Harold Enarson.

Some of the School's alumni attending the functions are Milton Caniff, New York "Post" columnist Earl Wilson, lyricist Lee Adams, and Jerry Brondfield, an editor for "Scholastic Magazines" and the author of the new book, "Woody Hayes and the 100-Yard War."

Hall says, "This 60th anniversary gives us proper occasion for recognizing and saluting the achievements of the sons and daughters of this School, faculty as well as students. Their efforts have won Ohio State the position it enjoys in journalism circles today.

"And the dedication of the new Journalism Building is graphic proof that the School is resting on no past laurels but is preparing to meet the challenges of a new technology and of reporting problems that daily grow more complex."

Dr. William E. Hall, director of the School of Journalism, instructs Ellen Gardner, Lantern managing editor, on the use of the School's new Video Display Terminals, the latest tool in electronic editing. Ms. Gardner is a senior journalism major from Westerville.

ECONOMY. PLUS LIBERAL FRINGE BENEFITS.

Good gas mileage is still the thing you want most in a little car, of course. But we know you'd like more.

Like sporty looks and colors and models to choose from.

Bucket seats that fit you comfortably.

Nice soft carpeting.

A floor-mounted shift control and an instrument panel with dials and

Trade-mark ®

WE DON'T SETTLE FOR FIELD GOALS.

That's why the United States Marine Corps is a tough team to beat. And a tough team to make.

We want quality, not quantity.

If you've finished high school but haven't finished learning...

Or if you're a college man who is ready for leadership and responsibility...

If you've got it and you want to stand with the Marines, you'll be welcome.

Just keep one thing in mind: we make no compromises, no shortcuts, and only one promise—You'll be a Marine.

One of the few, and one of the finest.

"THE GREAT PUMPKIN"

There's only one "Great Pumpkin" in the wonderful world of college football.

He's Dee Andros, now in his 10th season as head football coach at Oregon State University and one of the most popular sports figures ever to invade the Pacific Northwest.

Actually, Andros at birth received the full Greek name of Demosthenes Konstandies Andrecopoulos. Later he legally changed it to Dee Andros.

The Beaver headman is a native Oklahoman, and played his college football under the late Jim Tatum and Bud Wilkinson. Between high school and college, he was a sergeant in the Marine Corps, and won the Bronze Star for heroism in the battle of Iwo Jima.

After graduation, Andros joined the Sooner staff with Wilkinson, and later served as an assistant coach at Texas Tech, Kansas, Nebraska, California and Illinois. His first head coaching job was at Idaho in 1962, and he gave Idaho its first winning season in a long time in his three years at Moscow.

In 1965, when Oregon State Coach Tommy Prothro moved to UCLA, the Beavers hired Andros and the move was one of the wisest ever on the Corvallis campus. He began producing winners, right from the start, and his 1967 and 1968 clubs were nationally ranked.

The '67 squad became known as the "Giant Killers." It started midway in the season when Oregon State went back to Purdue to meet the Boilermakers, then ranked No. 2 nationally and hot on the heels of No. 1 USC. In a major upset, Oregon State won, 22-14, and Andros was in the headlines all over the country.

Two weeks later, the Beavers went to Los Angeles to play UCLA, then ranked No. 2, and the game wound up in a 16-16 tie. A routine PAT that hit the crossbar and bounced back cost Oregon State a victory, although most southern sportswriters called it a moral victory for OSU.

Reminded that the next opponent for the Beavers would be No. 1 USC, and asked what he (Andros) thought about playing No. 1.

His answer:

"I'm sick and tired of playing No. 2 teams. Bring on No. 1, and they better be ready when they meet us." The Des Moines Register ran a banner headline that read, "Andros Warns No. 1 Trojans."

And so, what happened? Oregon State beat USC, 3-0. It was the only loss all year for the men of Troy, who also later won the national title and the Rose Bowl. If Oregon State hadn't lost to Washington earlier in the season, the Beavers would have been in the Rose Bowl.

Harry Missildine, sports editor of the Spokane, Wash. "Spokesman Review," is the man who gave Andros his name, "The Great Pumpkin." It stems, of course, from his size, and for his love for the color orange. At one time in Corvallis, Andros had an orange car, an orange bathroom, an orange desk, orange shoes and football attire, and orange golf cart.

Orange and Black are Oregon State University colors, and Dee Andros likes to make the most of it.

No coach in the state has ever been more popular with the press than Dee. He'll see them anytime, night or day. His office door is always open to players and press, or even an interested alum. If at all possible, Andros accepts all requests to be an after-dinner speaker. And he's a good speaker, too. A few years ago, Dee was main speaker at the National Championship Nebraska football banquet. He was at the Fiesta Bowl banquet last year.

Not many head coaches believe in getting too close to their players. Andros is different. He calls them by their first names, stops and shakes hands with them on the campus, and of course, is willing to talk to them at any time.

"The Pumpkin" loves to play golf, although he hardly could be mistaken for Arnold Palmer when it comes to swinging the clubs.

For 18 holes, he shoots somewhere around 96 or 98 most of the time. Dee usually hits 'em pretty straight, and he putts fairly well, but he doesn't get much distance on his drives.

One of his favorite golfing partners is Oregon's Governor, 6-5 Tom McCall. They first met on the links a couple years ago, and Andros triumphed. In the last meeting, however, the Governor beat Dee in a close match.

Andros doesn't have a big family, but he is a great family man. His wife, Lu, is one of the most popular members of the Corvallis Community. Like Dee, she's an Oklahoman, too, and they met at the University of Oklahoma as undergraduates.

Their only child is Jeanna, a high school student in Corvallis. "She can wrap me right around her thumb," a smiling Andros admits.

Andros and his staff seldom hold night meetings during football, but they do work on Sundays and make every hour count during a regular day.

One of Dee's real trademarks all these years has been running out on the field ahead of his team. They used to call it "The Great Race." At the end of his run, they would jump all over each other, gathered around him. But that probably won't happen this fall, on doctor's orders. Dee has a bad hip that ultimately will require surgery, and has been advised it would be smart to give up the running bit.

One thing that won't change, however, is Dee's nickname, "The Great Pumpkin."

That one was made just for him.

Spirit and pride bring former members of The Ohio State University Marching Band, now members of the "TBDBITL" Alumni Club," back to Ohio Stadium for this, their Sixth Reunion. The size and scope of this event is unmatched anywhere in the country; a combination of the past and the present, those who started the traditions and those who have built on them, and with thrills felt by both participants and spectators. The 1974 Marching Band, the largest yet with an expanded percussion section, over 300 former members of the band on the field, the familiar school songs, a repeat of the famous "1812 Overture," and the Triple Script Ohio all blend together in "Something Old, Something New."

EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY

Building an organization is much like building a football team. You secure key personnel and use good coaching and concentrate on the fundamentals of the game, progress will appear and championship form can be attained.

Here in our agencies, we have key personnel who have done a great job of recruiting quality men and women. Pictured on this page are some of the key personnel who do an excellent job of coaching and guiding our agents into becoming successful, established career life underwriters. This is a career lifetime opportunity. Qualified individuals may be promoted to management. If you are a person who has a competitive background, has been serious about success and truly desires a career — not a job — why not call Mike Murray, C.L.U. or Jerry Porter, the coaches of The Equitable Agencies in Columbus, Ohio.

1973 – IT WAS A VERY GOOD YEAR

The 1973 football season was a memorable one for Ohio State. The powerful Buckeyes won ten, lost none and tied one and outscored the opposition by a lopsided 413 to 64 margin. The tie game, 10-10 against Michigan, cost Ohio State an undisputed Big Ten title and a National Championship. A smashing 42-21 victory over Southern California in the Rose Bowl placed Ohio State second in the national ratings.

Individual honors were showered on Buckeye athletes. John Hicks, Randy Gradishar, Archie Griffin and Van De Cree won first team All-America honors, while Pete Cusick and Neal Colzie were named to the second team. The above six plus Jim Kregel, Kurt Schmuacher and Rick Middleton were named to the first string All-Big Ten team.

Cornelius Greene was the most valuable player in the Rose Bowl. Hicks won both the Outland and the Lombardi Awards, each symbolic of the "top collegiate interior lineman." Hicks was second in the voting for the coveted Heisman Award. Gradishar won both an NCAA Scholarship for post graduate studies and a scholarship grant by the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame, awarded for combined excellence in the classroom and in athletics.

An incredible total of 925,162 saw the Buckeyes play 11 games. Ten of the 11 contests were sellouts. The final two games drew 210,490, with 105,223 at Michigan and 105,267 at the Rose Bowl.

A record home attendance of 523,369 watched the Buckeyes win all six games with ease. This marked the 21st time in the last 23 years that Ohio State has led the nation in home football attendance.

The fans were treated to great football. An explosive offense, spiced with exciting long runs by Griffin and Greene kept the fans in suspense. Griffin's feat of gaining over 100 yards in each of 11 games is unmatched in Big Ten history. His rushing total of 1,577 yards set Ohio State and Conference season records.

And there was Greene, with his twisting, turning runs. He averaged a remarkable 5.7 yards per carry and scored 12 touchdowns.

Just as spectacular as any Buckeye was Colzie, who led the nation in punt returns with 679 yards in 40 tries.

Then there was the defense, led by Ohio State's brilliant linebackers, Gradishar, Middleton and Vic Koegel. There wasn't a better trio in college football.

All-American tackle John Hicks won the Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award as the top offensive lineman in college football. Hicks also finished second in the balloting for the Heisman Trophy.

But there was more, much more. DeCree and Jim Cope were superb ends and Cusick and Arnie Jones were outstanding tackles. Tim Fox was a gifted corner back and Steve Luke and Rich Parsons were strong defenders in the deep defense to go with the talented Colzie.

This was a defense that smothered opponent offenses. Its quickness, pursuit and sure tackling won the acclaim of the fans.

Archie Griffin is shown with head coach Woody Hayes (L) and Roy Damer (R) of the Chicago Tribune as he receives the Tribune's Silver Football, symbolic of the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player.

NEAL COLZIE, senior open-side halfback from Miami, Fla. One of the top deep backs and punt return specialists in college football. Named to several pre-season All-American teams this year after a sensational junior campaign in which he made 35 tackles, recorded four pass interceptions, led the nation in punt return yardage and scored four touchdowns — two on interceptions and two via punt returns. Set an OSU career record last year with his 679 yards in run backs. Was the 1970 "Florida High School Athlete of the Year." Won all-state honors in football, basketball and baseball.

MEET THE BUCKEYES

Defensive Backfield

RICH PARSONS, senior safety from Cuyahoga Falls. The quarterback of the Buckeye secondary. Has excellent speed and goes to the ball very well. Broke into the lineup as a sophomore when regular Rick Seifert was hurt and has been a starter ever since. Missed three games last year with a knee injury but returned to play very well late in the season. Earned all-Ohio honors in baseball as a senior. Played tailback for his high school football team. Admires Jack Tatum.

TIM FOX, junior open-side safety from Canton. Started all eleven games last year and improved with each outing. Finished the year with 54 tackles and had four sacks behind the line of scrimmage. His top individual performance last year came against Northwestern when he blocked a punt and then carried the ball into the end zone for a touchdown. A very fierce competitor who can be counted upon to make the "big play." Captained his high school football, basketball and track teams. Majoring in journalism at Ohio State. Hobbies are pool and sports cars.

BRUCE RUHL, sophomore safety from Southfield, Mich. Will back up Rich Parsons but can play any of the defensive backfield positions. A versatile athlete who can also be used as a punt return specialist. Played in eight games as a freshman last year and was credited with 14 tackles. A rugged tackler at 6-1, 188 and has outstanding speed. A former all-Michigan football pick, he earned 12 letters in five sports at Lathrup High School. MVP in football both as a junior and senior. Hobby is drawing.

STEVE LUKE, senior boundary-side halfback from Massillon. Played offensive center as a sophomore but started all eleven games last year on defense and led the deep backs in tackles with 55. A jarring tackler who plays the run very well and is improving steadily as a pass defender. A solidly built 6-2, 197-pounder who controls the closed side of the field. Won all-Ohio honors at Massillon as a linebacker and tight end. His high school coach, Bob Commings, is now head coach at the University of Iowa. Wants to become a dentist.

OHIO STATE SONGS

ACROSS THE FIELD

Fight that team across the field,
Show them Ohio's here,
Set the earth reverberating with a mighty cheer
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Hit them hard and see how they fall;
Never let that team get the ball,
Hail! Hail! the gang's all here,
So let's win that old conference now.

CARMEN OHIO

Oh! Come let's sing Ohio's praise,
And songs to Alma Mater raise;
While our hearts rebounding thrill,
With joy which death alone can still.
Summer's heat or Winter's cold,
The seasons pass, the years will roll;
Time and change will surely show
How firm thy friendship O-hi-o.

BUCKEYE BATTLE CRY

In old Ohio there's a team,
That's known thru-out the land;
Eleven warriors, brave and bold,
Whose fame will ever stand,
And when the ball goes over,
Our cheers will reach the sky,
Ohio Field will hear again

The Buckeye Battle Cry —
Drive! Drive on down the field,
Men of the scarlet and gray;
Don't let them thru that line,
We have to win this game today,
Come on, Ohio!
Smash thru to victory
We cheer you as we go:
Our honor defend
So we'll fight to the end for O Hi o.
